

Star Ratings Motion: Working Session

Wed Jul 8, 9:00-9:30 • Naveen Thilagan • Zoom • his agenda: "pre-work and strategy around the star ratings motion"

OPEN WITH THIS, BEFORE THE SCREEN-SHARE

"This is designed, the data's ready, and it's built to stand up in our workspace next. Here's the Star Ratings pre-work and where I want your read."

GET HIS READ ON: IN THIS ORDER

1 The attribution definition ★ the one that matters today

Agree what "engine-sourced" means and that the three Salesforce fields exist. This is what makes the whole Star Ratings motion measurable. Get this one before anything else.

2 The deliverability bar

Prove on a small slice, watch inbox health, then scale. Set the threshold together.

next motion

Not today's agenda. Mention only as where this extends. His edits become the sourcing spec.

RIGOR TO SURFACE (YOUR EDGE)

- ▶ October re-pull discipline. The universe is vintage-sensitive; plans graduate past 4.0 each cycle. The motion re-pulls at every October CMS release, so we never work a stale list.
- ▶ The 2028 attribution-window check. Some call-center measures are already dropping for the 2028 ratings. Raise it as a joint verification so the copy never inherits a claim that has shifted. Frame as a shared check, not a correction.

TARGET ORDER: NEW-FALLER CONTRACTS FIRST

Humana › UnitedHealth › CVS / Aetna › Centene › Elevance › HCSC

Ranked on the influenceable 2028 window (modeled from public CMS data). Humana ≈ $1.08B of that window across Tier A+B. Lead with new-faller contracts inside each parent, the pain is fresh and uncontested.

IF HE ASKS

"Is it live in Clay right now?" Designed, data ready, next to stand up in our workspace. Head start, not a finished thing.

"Why not every plan under 4.0?" We rank on dollars we can influence in the open 2028 window, not the whole theoretical number. Clinical-only gaps drop out.

"What about Sales Navigator?" I advise, not ask: bring it in as a data and signal source first; I'll scope the tool and cost. Automation later, once deliverability is green.

CHOREOGRAPHY: 30 MIN, DON'T LET THE TOUR WIN

- ▶ Overview page briefly, then drive into the build page (clay-build.html). That's the Star Ratings substance.
- ▶ Get the attribution read on the table before minute 20.
- ▶ Keep back-office and Sales Nav as "where it goes next." Don't let them eat the clock.
